Former Staff Support Fife College Students

► A group of former Fife College staff members have been continuing to generously support our current students by fundraising at their events and donating these funds towards the College's Adam Smith Scholarship fund. They have supported the programme since 2016 helping to invest in a brighter future for our students.

This year the Association were able to support five very deserving students with their studies; Alison Jones, Arron Cuthbert, Caitlyn Snaddon, Calli Leishman, and Danielle Klym.

Arron Cuthbert who undertook Advanced Certificate: Pathway to Social Sciences said: "I feel overwhelmed and incredibly privileged to have won this award. Coming back to college has transformed my life and I couldn't ask for better classmates or lecturers. This money will be spent on an Apple Pencil to use for note taking as I progress into my HNC course."

Alison Jones who undertook Advanced Certificate: SWAP Access to Arts, Humanities and Primary Education was also delighted to be a recipient of this award. She said: "I am grateful and humbled to be chosen as a scholarship winner and I am very excited to add this to my CV. Being chosen has significantly boosted my confidence and I will use the funds to buy a printer to make my studies quicker and more manageable on my next journey at Abertay University in September. Thank you all."

Similarly, Caitlyn Snaddon Advanced Certificate: Pathway to Social Sciences said: "I am absolutely thrilled and delighted to be selected! This means a lot to me as it feels good to be recognised for the hard work I have done throughout my course. This will benefit me in terms of continuing my Social Sciences course journey to then studying at University. This has boosted my confidence and means future employers will value and recognise me as an exceptional student. This will be used to support me to pay for books and textbooks for my course next year. Thank you, Fife College!" ■
